

Under siege

Despair and destruction

A Korean shop owner surveys the rubble of his southwest Los Angeles store Thursday morning after it was burned by rioters.

Numb from the violence

Both KA storeowners and residents in South Los Angeles are shocked at the damage.

Store evacuation

Above: KA shoe storeowner tries to remove merchandise before a potential riot Thursday.

Trouble for nothing

Left: A row of Korean American teen-agers who gathered to protect the shopping center are searched for illegal firearms by the police.